HILLARY, Wicked Witch or Powerful Catalyst?

Let the inquisition begin... or so you'd think, the way insults about her femininity are flying about these days. I couldn't help but wonder what her birthchart had to say about her. After analyzing the symbols in her chart, I came up with this sentence to encapsulate the basic themes that I found there.

The Charismatic Focalizer with the soul of the Compassionate One and the guise of the Messenger.

A quick glance at her chart and one of the first things that pops out is the fact that her PISCES MOON sits alone at the top of the chart in the upper hemisphere, the more visible and public side of her personality. It's in the House of Status and Career. This is a woman whose emotions are truly nurtured and developed by being in the public eye. Her Pisces Moon gives her an emotional nature that is open to understanding many different types of people and a natural feeling of compassion for the suffering of the downtrodden. The downside of this "medicine" would be someone who is caught up in the illusion of glamour and fame and who is cold and heartless toward others.

Most of us are mixtures of both the good and bad aspects of our signs. I'm sure Hillary is no exception. Most people, maybe everyone, is doing their best with the hand they've been dealt.

Hillary's SCORPIO SUN in the Fifth House, traditionally called the House of Children, radiates up to the 10th House and the midheaven in a harmonious trine. The House of Children is also the House of Pleasure and Romance. Anyone with a Sun sign there has a powerful need to play and self-express and be the center of attention. With Scorpio here, there is also the powerful need to have at least one lover. This is going to happen in a very intense and transformative way for Hillary because of the nature of her Scorpio Sun.

Putting all this information together with the fact that she has an ASCENDANT in the sign of GEMINI, the Communicator, Hillary is someone who definitely thrives on—and needs—to receive a lot of attention from others. She really needs to tell her story. And, I do believe she's done that. Simon and Schuster paid her a record $8,000,000.00 up front for her autobiography. It sold a million copies within the first month of being published and was translated into twelve languages.

Not far from her Sun, Venus, her ability to experience love, empathy and connection, and Mercury, her intellect and natural curiosity, radiate harmoniously upward to her Pisces moon as well. We're seeing someone here with a tremendous capacity to feel and express love and compassion out into the world. But could it be getting overdone? Could she be taking on the task of single-handedly "saving the world?" Can she be blind to her limits? It's quite possible; but she does have some very powerful balancing aspects as well.

Jupiter, representing faith and enthusiasm, is linked to Venus, Mercury and her Sun, but by contrast, it radiates up to the midheaven with an aspect of unavoidable conflict and friction. Since Jupiter is a part of the human psyche that can really over-expand, leading on the extreme down side, to fanaticism, it seems that Hillary has a safety catch here.

Another very powerful balancing aspect is Uranus rising in the East with her ASCENDANT, fusing a strongly individualistic and rebellious quality into her SOCIAL PERSONALITY. Uranus is also creating friction, but with her Pisces Moon. This would explain why Bill had to propose to her repeatedly over about a five year period before she would consent to marry him. She was afraid, and quite rightly so, that she might lose her individuality within the relationship.

A third and extremely powerful balancing factor that generates perspective in Hillary's chart is a trio of planets, Saturn, Pluto and Mars, in the Third House of Perception and Communication. Saturn represents Self-discipline and reality-testing, Pluto, represents Truthfulness and Penetration and Mars, represents Assertiveness and Territoriality. These three are pitting their weight against Sun, Venus and Mercury in a battle of wills. This is the kind of "damned if you do, damned if you don't" situation that can ultimately build strength of character, but not without a high degree of stress. On the extreme negative side, it can destroy a person if they don't have the strength to deal with it properly.

Quite a stew, if you ask me! Saturn, Pluto and Mars are in agreement about the way Hillary communicates. Combine this with a highly individualistic social style that flies in the face of tradition. pitted against her relationship forming ability and ability to communicate in deeply bonded relationships (Scorpio) and yes, it's understandable that she'd end up with a situation like "Monica Lewinsky!"

SATURN is the most pivotal planet in this mixture. Where Saturn appears in a chart shows an area in a person's life in which they have to be able to stand on their own two feet. They will not be able to rely on anyone else for support there; and they must act with good reality-testing and self-discipline to change some deeply engrained pattern. So, obviously, she had to make her own decision on how to deal with "the Monica thing" not to mention all the other insults, court cases etc. she's received from women and men who are threatened by the idea of a woman holding a powerful public position.

Hillary is a truly remarkable woman. She is the only woman in American history to have pursued her own, highly successful as well as highly lucrative career in law before entering the White House as First Lady. She's also the only First Lady to have become a Senator as well, not to mention, the first woman to run for President. For the most part it seems she thinks and speaks for herself. No question there.

The final aspect of chart analysis in Evolutionary astrology, involves looking at the NORTH and SOUTH NODES of the MOON. These also more poetically known as the Head and Tail of the Dragon. They give us the information that guides the direction of the chart. Where has Hillary come from? Where is she headed? What's the solution to her predicaments?

The Moon's south node in Scorpio in the 6th House, the traditional House of Servants, tells a "past life story" of receiving training and mentoring from someone or perhaps more than one person, with whom she had a deeply bonded relationship. The mentoring had to do with correct emotional behavior in the public eye. It seems highly likely that this “support” may not have been of an entirely helpful nature to her, though, as much as it was to them and to maintaining the status quo. Considering this, along with that aspect of friction and conflict with the planets in the 3rd House, it seems that there was an authority figure who blocked her growth. Pluto in Leo tells the story of a deeply inflicted wound to her ability to speak openly and expressively about herself and I’m beginning to see shades of political intrigue and repression. Could she, in a former lifetime, have been a high class prostitute pressed into sexual slavery to someone wealthy and powerful? Was she one of those previous First Ladies who stood by meekly and ineffectively as her husband wielded power? I think it had to be something like that... But in this lifetime, Hillary’s challenge is to take a different path and learn how to wield power in her own right.

Will she win the election? Heck if I know! But I do know that win or lose, the ultimate solution to her unavoidable stress is to take some time to follow the instructions suggested by the Head of the Dragon symbolism, Taurus in the 12th House.

The 12th House is traditionally called the House of Troubles but could just as well be called the House of Wisdom. In the eyes of Eternity, which it represents, winning and losing are all the same. The suggestion here is, “Learn when to let go. Simplify your life. Don’t try harder, try softer, Hillary. Give your animal nature some sensual relief. Look inward for some insights and revelations from your soul for the deepest meaning behind events. Feel the inner peace at the core of your being that allows you to transcend all the ups and downs of life.”

Maybe that’s why her favorite hymn is His Eye Is On The Sparrow. I just happen to know that the rest of that line is “...and I know He watches me.”

IT’S IMPORTANT TO KNOW THIS

Forget about those one-size-fits-all horoscopes. Your unique chart is constructed from your personal birth data: Exact time, date and place of birth.

In the method of Evolutionary astrology that I use, the Sun sign represents our basic sense of Identity. The Moon sign represents our inner, emotional nature and the Ascendant, or Rising sign tells about our personal style and how we interface with the world. Sun, Moon and Ascendant are called the Primal Triad and are the foundation for understanding your personal themes. I consider the chart as a WHOLE. I also very carefully study the way the symbols are arranged in order to make your personal life themes clear.

You can find more information about Evolutionary astrology on my web site or email me and I’ll happily answer your questions.
